

Sanguinor

TOWERS OF SAEROTH · PLAYER HANDOUT

One character's ancestry. The vampiric half of Isaiah, in the ancestry slot so the nephilim can keep the heritage.

Why this is an ancestry

Three strands, one slot each.

Strand	Where it sits
The divinity	Exemplar, the class. See Exemplars
The vampirism	Sanguinor, this ancestry
The gods' blessing	Nephilim, the versatile heritage

Dhampir and nephilim are both versatile heritages and a character gets one, so the vampiric half had nowhere to go. Moving it into the ancestry slot leaves the heritage free for the nephilim, which is the whole reason this exists. A dhampir is the nearest published thing and is not the same thing.

Languages

Common

Necril

Additional languages equal to your Intelligence modifier (if it's positive). Choose from Aklo, Elven, Undercommon, and any other languages to which you have access (such as the languages prevalent in your region).

Low-Light Vision

You can see in dim light as though it were bright light, so you ignore the concealed condition due to dim light.

Void Healing

You are harmed by vitality damage and are not healed by vitality healing effects. You do not take void damage, and you are healed by void effects that heal undead. You remain a living creature, so Treat Wounds and Battle Medicine work on you normally and you use the ordinary dying rules.

Disease and Poison Protection

You gain a +1 circumstance bonus to saving throws, and to any other defenses, against diseases and poisons.

Sunlight Sensitivity

While directly exposed to sunlight, you are clumsy 1. Covering yourself with a hood, cloak, veil, or similar garment prevents this.

Fledgling Fangs

Your incisors are elongated and you can drink blood directly from a creature. They are not a functional weapon and grant no unarmed attack.

Balanced Hunger

You crave blood and always will, but ordinary food keeps your body running. You are unfed unless you have drunk at least a pint of blood within the last 24 hours. Drinking blood takes 1 minute and requires a willing, grabbed, restrained, unconscious, or freshly dead creature that has blood, or a stored supply. Being unfed carries no penalty on its own.

The Red Thirst

While you are unfed, spilled blood pulls at you. The first time in an encounter that a creature within 30 feet takes piercing or slashing damage, the Red Thirst rises, and it stays until the encounter ends. While it is on you:

- You gain a +1 circumstance bonus to melee damage rolls and to Intimidation checks.
- You take a -1 circumstance penalty to Will saves.

At the start of each of your turns, if you can see an enemy that has taken piercing or slashing damage, attempt a Will save against the level-based DC for your level: 15 at 1st, 20 at 5th, 27 at 10th, 34 at 15th, 43 at 20th. The penalty above applies to it, so the thirst makes you worse at resisting the thirst.

Success You act freely this turn.

Failure At least one of your actions this turn must be a Strike against, or movement toward, the nearest such enemy.

Critical Failure As failure, and at least two of your actions must go that way.

Heritage

There is no Sanguinor heritage list. Take a versatile heritage instead, the same as any other ancestry would.

Ancestry Feats

You can select dhampir feats whenever you gain an ancestry feat, along with the feats of whatever versatile heritage you took.

There is one Sanguinor in the world.
